

MOBILE CRANE OPERATOR SAFETY CERTIFICATION PROGRAM

INTERNATIONAL SIGN ACADEMY

ISA's Mobile Crane Operator Safety Certification Training program and certification testing will allow companies to comply with new requirements in OSHA's Cranes and Derricks in Construction Rule 29 CFR Part 1926. Among other initiatives, the OSHA rules mandate that every crane operator be certified by November 10, 2014. Types of equipment covered under the new rule include any piece having a maximum (rated) capacity greater than 2,000 lbs. and used to hoist, lower, or horizontally move a load. For the sign industry specifically, this is most likely a mobile truck crane or articulating crane.

Crane safety training will enhance your knowledge of safety procedures, site inspection, load handling, signaling and proper maintenance while operating a crane/boom truck. This course is divided into three components: (1) Three days of classroom training; followed by one day for (2) one Core Written Exam and a Telescopic Boom Crane—Fixed Cab (TSS) Specialty Written Exam and (3) a hands-on Telescopic Boom Crane—Fixed Cab (TSS) Practical Exam (four total days). Classroom size is limited so be sure to register early to ensure your placement in the class of your choice.
